Stoughton Utilities donates to Stoughton Holiday Fund

Stoughton Utilities recently donated $1,050 to the Stoughton Holiday Fund to help local families and individuals in need this holiday season. The donation came from Stoughton Utilities and their power provider, WPPI, as part of their Community Contributions program, through which the utility is able to make charitable contributions to the community it serves.

For 27 years the Stoughton Holiday Fund has been making material and monetary donations to those in urgent need in the Stoughton area. Stoughton Utilities' donation will be used to help purchase and deliver things like beds, clothing, food, prescriptions, gas, and school supplies, and help pay utility bills and rent, among other things.
